About

For its San Diego offices, Vectron, a high-tech optical inspection company turned to Kimball Office to provide a stylish setting that enhances their fast-paced work style and complements the founder's collection of modernist paintings.

Challenge

"Vectron's founder wanted furniture that appealed to both creative and technical employees. He needed the solutions from Kimball Office to:

- Complement the space's modern architecture
- Accommodate technology

Solution

Workstations with clean, modern aesthetics fully support advanced technology and feature tiles in bold colors and varying sizes that suggest a "Mondrian" style. Solutions included:

- Xsite panel system
- Traxx system
- Footprint worksurfaces and storage
- Definition desks and storage
- Conferencing Solutions tables
- Xtreme and Bingo seating

Results

"Our exposed beams, painted concrete floors and contemporary furnishings make a great impression on clients. It's such a fun and functional place to work. The space has flair," said Joseph Vilella, Vectron's founder.
